

From Major to Minor

Jazz duo by Amelia and Armen

Press Kit

2019

About us...

Amelia Feuer and Armen Georgian, two international expats living in Paris, France, play the standards of the golden age of jazz and musical theatre.

Amelia and Armen bring excitement, passion, and virtuosity to the favorite vintage jazz standards of the 20th century. Just close your eyes and let them whisk you away to an era of top hats, smoke filled cabarets, and red lipstick on an empty whisky glass. The beautiful, haunting melodies they play will chase your troubles away.

Two classically trained musicians, this international duo was brought together by their passion for jazz and musical theatre spanning from the 1940's through the 1960's. This dazzling duo's repertoire spans from the great American composers of the Golden Age of Jazz (Porter, Gershwin, Weill) to the cabarets of vintage Paris (Piaf, Le Grand, Brel).

Amelia and Armen also enjoy individual prestigious careers. Amelia can be seen singing on the stages of international opera houses (Opera de Paris, Opera de Geneve, etc) and Armen is regularly featured actor in film and television series.

'From Major to Minor' plays and performs throughout the year at numerous concerts, private parties, salons, and events in Paris, as well as throughout Europe.

Our show...

Amelia and Armen choose jazz and music theatre standards that are hauntingly beautiful. Their music reaches into the hearts of their audience. The Major to Minor duo creates an ambience that is intimate, enthralling, uplifting, and seductive.

The show normally runs approximately one hour with a 15 minute intermission. It is possible to modify the format of our presentation on request.

We bring all our own materials (including a piano if there is not already one available at the performance venue).
